Study Abroad (Semester)

Liverpool, United Kingdom

Exchange Program: University of Liverpool

Great for: Law and International Politics

About: Rated in the top 1% of universities in the world, Liverpool offers courses in a comprehensive selection of fields, including International Economics, Business, Law, and Political Philosophy.

Hirakata City, Japan

Exchange Program: Kansai Gaidai University

Great for: Asian Studies and Political Science

About: Hirakata City is located in the Osaka region, which is the second largest business metropolis in Japan. In addition to language classes for all levels, students at KGU have access to a broad course catalog and can take courses addressing Asian studies, history, economics, political science, sociology, and more.

Santiago, Chile

USAC Program: Universidad Andrés Bello

Great for: International Studies and Political Science

About: Santiago is a city of contrasts: historic areas stand side-by-side with modernism; plazas and parks in the midst of metropolis. Outside of the city, Chile offers many diverse geographic landscapes, with deserts, rainforests, volcanoes, mountains, and fjords. This program combines Spanish language courses with electives in international studies, Latin American culture, and journalism. Students must take at least two Spanish language courses.

The Hague, Netherlands

USAC Program: The Hague University of Applied Sciences

Great for: Political Science, Business, Law, European Studies

About: The Hague is known for being the political and diplomatic heart of the Netherlands, so this city is perfect to study courses in politics, business, law, and public administration. As a place with many cultures and nationalities represented, the Hague allows for truly a diverse international education about experience. Students also participate in the Dutch Culture and Society course which includes organized field trips to sites like the Kroller-Muller Museum where a large collection of Van Gogh paintings are housed.
